

Emile Alexander Dodds

Emile Alexander Dodds is an experienced corporate trainer building on a career in educational management and technology. Originally from Scotland before making Malaysia his home, Emile has worked in the United Kingdom, Turkey, Romania and Singapore. His qualifications include a degree in Electronic Engineering and a TESL certification (Teaching English as a Second Language).

For the first few years of his career, Emile taught English to adults in language schools and later in academic settings (HELP and Kirkby College). He went on to pursue a career in elearning development and educational media, working as a Product Development Manager, Educational Media Specialist, Assistant Head of Department and Head of Department. During most of this time, he continued to also be involved in teaching and training.

Now a full-time trainer with over 20 years of experience under his belt, Emile specialises in soft skills and language training for corporate clients. Previous clients include Bank Negara Malaysia, Bank Islam, iCIMB, Shell, IBM, Canon, Maxis, UKM, KWAP, SIDC, HSBC, various government agencies and many more.

His areas of specialisation in training include business communication, business writing, customer service, presentation skills, English language training, cultural awareness, Train-the-trainer and any kind of training where communication or language skills play a key role. Emile's ethos as a trainer is that learning must be enjoyable, but it must also include hard work. He encourages course participants to be analytical, but also to have fun and be expressive. More recently, during the COVID pandemic, he has gained experience training groups online.

Emile has written a book entitled From Manglish to English and maintains various websites, including roadtogrammar.com. He has over 150,000 followers on various social media platforms.
