

Mr. Job Ebenezer has been actively involved in training people with a variety of soft skills. He brings with him more than 10 years' worth of experience when it comes to coaching people and training them to achieve success in their life. His areas of expertise are leadership, communications, team building, emotional intelligence and personal development. He is very passionate about these topics. He is also a sought after motivational speaker, whereby he has travelled to 12 countries in delivering motivational speeches.

In his years of experience, he has had the opportunity to work directly with people who are business owners, entrepreneurs, HR personnel and so on. Whereby he was able to impart his knowledge and experience into the productivity of the organization and company. He believes that every organization needs training programs that is specially catered for their needs and the challenges that they are facing in today's world.

He is also experienced working with all age groups from the young to the adult because of his unique background working with NGO's. His able to connect with the participants through his content and his unique style of communication whereby he incorporates NLP principles into the training programs. He helps his participants to have a life changing training sessions.

He holds Bachelors of Applied Theology from Carey Baptist College in Auckland, New Zealand and He also holds a Master Practitioner of NLP Certification by American Board of Neuro Linguistic Programming. Job is also a certified HRDCORP trainer. Job is passionate about training people and helping them master skills that is required in today's world. Job has helped a lot of people who previously had challenges with negative thinking, depression, negative mind-set, life challenges and so on where today those individuals are thriving in their careers and life.

Job has created powerful training programs which undoubtedly helps organizations to increase their productivity and thrive in today's challenging circumstances especially after the Covid outbreak. He believes that effective training brings effective result and as such any organization who participates in his trainings will be greatly benefitted in terms of their productivity, lesser conflict and harmonious working place.